British Slaughter German Troops

TERRIFIC FIGHTING ON WEST FRONT DESCRIBED AS SECOND VERDUN IN HUN LOSS

LONDON, June 11.—Driving forward on the northern end of the Picardy battle front, the British advanced their line to a depth of nearly one-half of a mile on a front of one and one-half miles south of Morlancourt, the war office announced today.

Two hundred and thirty-three German prisoners were captured.

Morlancourt lies between three and four miles south of Albert and fourteen miles northeast of Amiens.

PARIS, June 11.—The fourth German offensive, which began on Sunday along a 21-mile front between Noyon and Montdidier, is proving a second Verdun.

Although the Germans have been able to occupy the villa of Mery, Belloy and St. Maur, and gain a footing on Marquelise, the French lines are holding firm.

The German effort to advance along the railways paralleling the Oise river in the direction of Compeigne and Paris have cost the Teutons appalling losses.

The fighting field is piled high with corpses and trenches are level with the ground with dead.

The German attacks have developed into a converging movement with the chief assaults delivered along the two railway lines. One of these lines run in a southeasterly direction from Montdidier through Estrès and Arsy; the other follows the Oise river through Ribecourt and Compiegne. Both lead to Paris.

While the Germans have exerted tremendous pressure all along the front, throwing huge masses of fresh troops into the combat, their only appreciable gains have been upon the center.

All accounts emphasize two features of the new action:

1. The brilliant and gallant resistance of the French, who are faced by overwhelming numbers.

2. The enormous losses of the Germans.

GERMANS BATTLE WEARY.

Terrific fighting has been raging along the northern bank of a small sluggish stream known as the Matz. There the Germans have been making tremendous efforts to break into the village of Elsincout, having reached the outskirts.

The German troops have become battle weary and their attacks are slackening in strength. Prisoners captured by the French were hungry and exhausted.

On the right and left wings of the battle front the Germans have been attempting debouching w no success. They tried to enfiltrate French positions from Thiescourt Wood, on the right, but were thrown back to their original positions with heavy losses. On the left flank they met with no better success.

The fighting front is now about nine miles from Compaigne, their chief local objective.

Correspondents at the front describe the slaughter of the German troops as they advanced in close formation as a massacre. Already at least five of the original seventeen divisions that were thrown into the fight have been slaughtered.

END NOT IN SIGHT.

However, the German crown prince seems to be well supplied with reserves, and the end of the new battle is not yet in sight.

The Germans have not attempted to widen the new fighting front, but continue their efforts to press forward along the original fighting zone.

The Germans owe their slight advance to the many tanks they

PIONEER OF RICHMOND IS CALLED BY DEATH

James F. Eaton, aged 67 years, a native of Ohio died at his home at the Point in this city after a lingering illness. Eaton has been a resident of Richmond for the past seventeen years. He came here at the time of the first construction work on the Standard Oil plant and has resided here and been in the employ of the company ever since. Before coming here he was employed by the Standard Oil company at the old Alameda plant and has been in continual service with the Standard Oil company for the past thirty-five years.

Deceased leaves a wife, Mrs. Amelia Eaton and two grown sons, Joseph Eaton and Lieutenant Irwin Eaton the latter of the United States Aviation Corps. He was a member of the Elks lodge of this city and was a general favorite among a wide circle of acquaintances.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made on account of the family not yet having been able to communicate with Lieutenant Eaton. That officer has been stationed at Kelly Field, Texas, but he left there according to advices received this morning for California, but the telegram did not state his destination in California.

DROVE AUTO WHILE DRUNK

For driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, a man by the name of Peacock, from San Francisco was fined $25 by Judge Odell this morning. The Judge also sentenced him to serve a term if wenty-five days in the county jail, but suspended that sentence pending the defendant's good behavior in the future.

Peacock paid the $25 fine and promised that he would not indulge in liquor in the future.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE CHAMBER WILL MEET

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Ralph W. E. Ames, announces that there will be a meeting of the entire membership of the body in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on the evening of Friday, June 14th at 8 o'clock.

The meeting is called for the purpose of getting the members together for the purpose of going over certain matters which will prove of benefit to the city. There is nothing of special significance to the call, except as above stated.

THREE HUN SUBMARINES ARE SUNK

AN ATLANTIC PORT, June 11.—Certain destruction of one German submarine by a liner and the probable sinking of two or more by allied destroyers escorting her was reported by the captain of a big liner which reached this port today after a voyage crowded with events as thrilling as any met with on the high seas since the Germans first began their midsea murders.

The U-boat surely accounted for was sunk by gunfire from the liner after an attempt to ram the diver had missed by a bare six feet.

One other submarine is believed to have been shattered by a destroyer's depth charge before the liner's victory, and the third within two hours after.

BIG BATTLE IN FRANCE AT CRISIS

PARIS, June 11.—All the advices from the battle front show that the enemy is putting forth every possible effort in his design to push toward Paris, throwing division after division into the melting pot. So far he has succeeded, in two days of fighting, in carrying forward his line at the maximum point of advance, at Vignemont, a distance of six miles. In this he has been materially aided by a considerable number of tanks, which the French artillery was at first unable ti demolish.

The enemy further succeeded in widening the point of his wedge by bringing up two divisions of the Guards and two Bavarian divisions borrowed from the army group of Crown prince Rupprecht. These troops captured the villages of Mery, St. Maur and Belloy, giving him a plateau behind which he can mass troops partly screened from observation by the French.

BALANCE FAVORS FRENCH.

If the danger to the French is in losing ground that is valuable as room in which to maneuver, the German peril lies in the human wastage that is in progress. The German army as a whole has been engaged for the last three months with slight facilities for renewal. The balance seems to be in favor of the French.

The resistance that is being offered by the French forces in this battle has not been surpassed for determination during the whole war. Thus one little group of dismounted cuirrassiers at Piemont, where, almost surrounded, it beat off fourteen German attacks contributing largely to the checking of the German advance.

In a summary of the Paris newspaper comment on the battle, the Havas Agency refers to the small progress made by the Germans yesterday in comparison with the price they had to pay.

The Petit Journal observes that after an extremely costly day for them in the way of casualties, the Germans realized smaller gains than on the previous day.

GENERAL KILLED

LONDON, June 11.—Gen. Frederick W. Lumaden, C. C., D. S. O., has been killed in action, according to a report from the British front today. He was born in 1871 and was promoted to a brigadier general in 1911.

WILLIAM SHEA KILLS SELF AT HOTEL IN RODEO

William Shea, aged 37 years, formerly a pipefitter at the Mare Island Navy Yard, committed suicide last night by severing the jugular vein of his throat in his room at the Rodeo hotel conducted by Mrs. Linch. The man came over from Mare Island last week and hired out to the Hercules Powder company to go to work this morning.

He was found last night in his room shortly after he had cut his throat with a razor by William Andrews, an employe of the place. He was quite dead when found.

Coroner Bert Curry, who was called in the case, is of the opinion that Shea committed the deed while lying on the bed, then got up an fell to the floor, exhausted, no doubt by the loss of blood.

Nothing was found among the effects of the dead man reavealing the whereabouts of relatives. His body is at the county morgue in this city and will be buried after Coroner Curry has used his utmost endeavors to find the relatives of the deceased.

ALL HANDS LOSE IN GREAT NATIONAL GAME

Stud poker is taboo is Judge C. A. Odell's court. He does not regard the great game with favor. Arthur King and J. Casey indulged in the sport a few nights since when a policeman accidentally dropped in on them and told them to come along with him.

When brought before Judge Odell this morning the men both plead guilty to the charge of gambling filed against them and were each fined the sum of $100, the lowest fine possible to access under section 330 of the penal code of California. They paid the fine.

HELEN CORNELL TAKES LEAD IN QUEEN CONTEST

Miss Helen Cornell	6075
Miss Gloria Osborne	5305
Miss Lillie Thorsen	4675
Miss Katherine Tefft	1890
Miss Helen Forbes	1805
Miss Vera Childs	1370
Miss Georgia Johnson	1250
Miss Beatrice Carter	1000
Miss Edith Delp	1000
Miss Vivian White	1000

With a phenomenal burst of speed which netted her 3065 new votes, Miss Helen Cornell succeeded in getting on the top of the list.

It has settled down to a race of the regular good old fashioned kind, the style of a contest which wins the way into the hearts of all the people.

Variety is the spice of life and the girls in their hard efforts are giving the public a small bit of Queen Contest variety in the shape of a different leader each time the votes are counted. None of the girls seem to be able to break away from the field and though the race has made wonderful progress, none of the girls can be counted out of the race, in fact they are just beginning to warm up to the situation and when the total is again put to press on Thursday, no telling who will lead the procession.

Miss Cornell made a remarkable gain of 3065 votes, enough to place her in the front row.

Miss Osborn is moving along steadily, 700 votes behind the leader and third on the list comes Miss Thorsen, 600 votes behind second place.

The rest of the girls are working steadily and no doubt will surprise us with big gains in the next few days. The contest is too young yet to count any one out, in fact it is just in its initial stage, and with just a little effort any one of the contestants can place herself head and shoulders above the rest.

MEN WILL BE CLASSIFIED TO SECURE GREAT U. S. ARMY

More men are demanded by the war office to meet the needs of the nation in the aggressive campaign which is contemplated against the Germans in France and other European countries and to that end a reclassification of all registrants for the draft will take place in a few days. Men who are now out of Class 1 and are in some of the deferred classifications will be automatically placed in the first or preferred class. Men with wives who can care for themselves will come under this head and those who are held back for industrial purposes will also be taken.

The government expects to obtain in this manner a half million men for the army in addition to those who will be called to the colors from the class of 1918. This morning the local exemption board received their first instructions regarding the matter of reclassification and will get busy with the work in a few days.

AUTO DRIVER HELD BLAMELESS BY JURY

The jury empanneled by Coroner Bert Curry to inquire into the death of 13-year-old Maro Udovich, who was run down and killed in Rodeo on the evening of June 6th by an automobile driven by John Kooy exonerated the latter after hearing the evidence last night at the inquest held in Martinez.

The boy was standing on the sidewalk talking to some companions when the machine driven by Kooy came along and without looking up the boy stepped off the walk in front of the machne. Koy was driving his machine at about ten miles an hour when the accident happened.

LIEUTENANT DELAP TELLS EXPERIENCE IN TRENCHES

Lieutenant Truman H. DeLap, former attorney of this city, but now in the thick of the battle over in France, writes to Beverly Hull one of his young boy friends in this city, as follows:

"Somewhere in France, May 16th, 1918.

"My Dear Beverly:—You remember I promised last January to write you a letter. I did not forget that promise, but have been too busy to fulfill it. Today I am in an observation post and things are pretty quiet, so have time to write you this letter.

"I know you will excuse a pencil —you see I have no ink here.

"This observation post is for the artillery and is just behind the French first-line trenches. From here I can see the German trenches and sometimes Germans in them. But pot very often can I see Germans, because when they show themselves we order our cannon behind us to fire on them. Then they hide pretty quickly, you bet!

"This morning, when I first came here, the Germans (Boches, we all call them) were firing on the French trenches and pieces of shells were flying over this observation post. You bet we were safe, because when we heard the shell coming we ducked down under th trench and sandbags we have here.

"All the other men we have here are French, except myself, and we have a lot of fun trying to talk to each other. They do not know English and I do not know French, but we manage to get along very well by signs and a dictionary.

"This morning I walked four kilometers (We do not say miles here) to where I am and on the way I saw many French soldiers and all the way I walked in the trenches. It was a fine morning and the birds were all singing. As I came along I thought that maybe, if America wins this war (and she will) boys like you will never have to go to war and there will be peace in the whole world for a long, long time! I hope so; don't you?

"I have been working very hard learning all the new methods of warfare since arriving in France. For a long time I was in a school for artillery officers.

"I will not be here much longer, but will soon be drilling American soldiers and preparing them to fight

"I would like to tell you where I am and of the many things I have seen, but the censor will not let me.

"Today I ate lunch in a deep dugout and every night I sleep in one That is so the Boche shells will not

THE SUBMARINE MENACE

The extension of the submarine warfare to this side of the Atlantic must have been expected by the navy department and it is but fair to assume that all possible precautions were taken to guard against attack. The coming of the Deutschland on a commercial errand and the havoc wrought by the U-53 when it sent down half a dozen English vessels alike were warnings. Ever since the United States entered the war the recurrence of such visits with our shippings as the objective has been a possibility to be dealt with. Moreover, the great improvements the Germans have made in submarine construction, enabling their undersea boats to carry armor, have made them more formidable weapons of offensive attack. The super-submarine indeed, with its greatly increased radius of action and its stronger powers of resistance, has power to range the Atlantic coast as easily as formerly it cruised about the British Isles.

Some time ago reports were current that submarines had been observed in the gulf stream and Cuba was sufficiently impressed with the truth of the stories to close the harbor of Havana for a period to outgoing vessels. Our coast line, however, is so extensive, the harbors so numerous and the water borne traffic so huge that shipping cannot be afforded the same degree of protection Great Britain gives the vessels across the channels attack. It remains to be seen whether immunity will always attach to the long homeward journey. Striking without warning the submarine may take its toll but striking, it advertises its presence to the whole world, and 3000 miles of sea must be crossed before home waters can be regained.

AMERICA'S MAN POWER

It was estimated that 1,000,000 men registered recently under the provision of the selective draft. These are the ones who have become twenty-one years old since June 5, 1917. Of this number approximately 750,000 will be fit for military service, and each year there is a perceptible increase. China, India and Russia are the only three countries in the world with a greater crop of young men annually crossing the border line which separates youth from manhood, and those three nations are not factors in the present struggle.

It is plain that the man power of the United States is equal to any demands that the present conflict may make, for, by setting back the age limit and shoving it forward, say from 19 to 35, five million more men—men the equal of any on the face of the earth—easily could be procured. During the Civil war the North enlisted about 2,700,000 men, the South approximately 600,000, and the population of the country at that time was in the neighborhood of 32,000,000. To raise the same number of men in accordance with the population today there would have to be fully 10,000,000 men under arms. Hence, it is very clear that this country can put ten million soldiers in the field and keep them there for an almost indefinite period.

The entente allies ought to be able to equal the strength in men of the United States. Such being the case, there ought to be no doubt as to the final outcome, for in industrial resources America alone surpasses the central powers. There is no doubt as to what the result will be, and it is very likely that the thoughtful men of Germany already have given up their hopes of conquest. A touch of the humane in the treatment of the crews of the ships shows that a new light of some kind has hit the dense German mind.

DEATH AS CAMOUFLAGE

It is perfectly natural with Germany and German captives to spread the report amongst the allied troops that Hindenburg is dead, with the expectation of relaxation of effort by the allies.

Autocracies have to depend much on particular personages. It doubtless surprised many Germans that England didn't throw up her hands and quit, upon her loss of Kitchner. A people drunk with the obsession that the "Me und Gott" partnership has Hindenburg as its right arm naturally over-estimates the importance of the effect upon all other peoples of a report of Hindenburg's removal. It will be in conflict with the German idea of the fitness of things if the allies simply say, "Oh well! Hindenburg dead is just one less German," and go right on with the business of removing more Germans as before.

Hindenburg's death might mean much to Germany. The allies are bent on the work of what Hindenburg represents, dead or alive. But, we guess that Hindenburg is still on earth. There have been no reports of riot or mutiny in the infernal regions.

The Record-Herald can see no particular reason why the city council and the supervisors of the county should side-step the saloon question. The liquor business has long since ceased to be a political factor in the county, state and nation and it does not amount to anything, one way or another, except to individuals engaged in the traffic, what becomes of it, so long as it goes, never to return. It matters nothing to the business interests of Richmond and to Contra Costa county if the saloons cease business. There was a time when it appeared to be a large factor, but that time, if it ever really existed, has passed. The business which goes out of a town because there is no liquor sold there, is of little importance. The element really of benefit to any community is not the sort of people who spend their money over the bar. It is true that many good citizens drink liquor occasionally, but they can get along without it. Admittedly it is of no benefit to anybody. The people generally don't want it, here and elsewhere. If it is not a good thing for the community, it is a bad thing. Then why try to foster it?

It is not at all likely that the U-boat menace on the American Atlantic coast will become such as to seriously retard the progress of fighting men to France. They are going over in a steady stream and they will continue to go regardless of any attempt the Germans may make to sing transports. The navy of the allies is of such a vast magnitude that thousands of warships can be requisitioned as convoy and it will be difficult for a submarine to break through the barrier to do damage. And in isolated cases where they do break through it will spell the doom of the foolhardy submarine crew.

General Foch, of the Allied armies, declares with truth that defensive fighting never won a battle and that the time will soon come when Germany will be put on the defensive and driven back into Hunland. Which sounds mighty good to the people of America. So long as the war is being fought on French and Belgian soil it is not worrying the German people a great deal. True, they are losing large numbers of men and it is costing billions of dollars in money, but what do the war lords of Germany care for that? The German people pay the bills and the German people die for their false cause, but when the land of the kaiser is menaced, it will be a decidedly different matter. Then the end of the war will be in sight.

Stomach Trouble Cured

Oakland, Oct. 2, '17
My stomach was my master for many years. I am a clerk in the office of the lumber department of the S. P. Co., and after every meal I had an anacying, grating sensation, together with an empty feeling in my stomach. Through lack of nourishment my health was broken and I was in a hospital for several weeks. The doctors first cleaned me out with a stomach pump. Then they treated me for ulcers, and finally, as I did not improve, they observed my digestion through an X-ray. Concluding that they could do nothing for me they sent me home with the suggestion of an operation.
Then a fellow employee who had received a great benefit by drinking the FONG WAN CHINESE HERBS suggested that I try them. The first cup of tea brought me genuine relief, and after a few weeks I was entirely cured. I am back in the office and will be glad to give my personal testimony to any desiring it.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "Headin' South"
An ARTCRAFT Picture

The latest Dougles Fairbanks production, "Headin' South," an Artcraft picture which will be shown at the Richmond theater today, marks the entrance of Art Rosson as a director of Fairbanks' pictures. He is a pupil of Chief Director Allan Dwan, who agreed with Fairbanks that Rossin was quite capable of handling a production.

Catharine MacDonald makes her first appearance opposite Douglas Fairbanks in "Headin' South," which is a thrilling story of the untamed Mexican border, where every one packs a gun. She recently completed a picture with Charles Ray, the Ince-Paramount star, and came well recommended to the Fairbanks studio. She is a native of Pittsburgh, and her first work on the legitimate stage was with Sam Bernard, followed by a New York engagement with Al Jolson at the Winter Garden. In some of the scenes in "Headin' South" she wears a Spanish shawl given to her by her grandmother, who claims it was purchased in San Francisco more than a hundred years ago.

Frank Campeau, the famous "heavy" of the stage and screen, who has become strongly identified with Douglas Fairbanks pictures, is well cast in a part described as "father to Trampus," which he created on the speaking stage in "The Virginian." His make-up, that of a bold, defiant Mexican leader of a rebel band of raiders, serves as a contrast to the straight costume worn by Fairbanks. The latter dresses in true western fashion, rather than in the manner of the typical motion-picture cowboy.

ROUTINE MATTERS ARE CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL

But little business was transacted last night at the regular weekly meeting. Matters of a routine nature came up for consideration, were disposed of or laid over and the members adjourned and departed for their homes.

A. Brazil, of the Portuguese picnic committee, appeared before the board and invited the members to participate in the picnic parade next Sunday. The invitation was accepted. The parade will take place Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

E. Evans was appointed by the council on recommendation of the fire chief, as electrician for the fire department. The electricians' union of Oakland requested that he be paid a salary if $135 per month, but this request was laid over until some future meeting. Other firemen appointed by the council, also on request of the fire chief were Robert Taylor, C. Howell and R. Sulfkowitz. These latter are all hosemen.

The National Security League asks the council to enforce the use of the English language in the city. It asks that all newspapers printed in foreign languages be suppressed; that teachers be aranged for those who cannot write or speak the English language and to discourage the patronizing of anybody engaged in business who does not speak good old plain United States.

The Oakland Land Show company requests that Richmond prepare and have on display an exhibit at the coming Land Show in that city and offers space for that purpose.

The Federad Reserve committee requests that the city postpone all unnecessary street and other improvements of a municipal nature until after the war.

The usual monthly reports of department heads were read and filed.

William H. Schooler, the San Francisco attorney who lately sold the lot adjoining the public library to the city for library purposes, submitted a deed for the property and the same was referred to the city attorney, as to form and conditions.

Somebody is breaking the electric light globes on Castro and Richmond avenue and the fire chief was delegated to do some detective business to ascertain the identity of the miscreants. Doubtless small boys will be found to be at the bottom of the difficulty when investigated.

Plans and specifications for the dolphin piles for wharf No. 1 were received and laid over for special investigation at the meeting on tomorrow evening. It may be well to state that a dolphin is something for ships to pump up against when they land and also for mooring purposes.

The Santa Fe hotel at the present time is without a tenant. It is in the hands of M. J. Kelly, the real estate man, and he requested the council last night that he be permitted to keep the place closed without jeopardizing the license until he can effect a sale of the property for the owners. His request was granted by the board.

In the matter of purchasing additional street sprinkling equipment, the bid of Pat Dean and A. Abbott was laid over until some future time.

The request of Captain Oscar Long that the Fourth of July Carnival committee be permitted to erect boothes on Macdonald avenue between Fourth and Tenth streets, was postponed for consideration until the meeting tomorrow evening.

LIEUT. DELAP TELLS EXPERIENCE IN TRENCHES

hurt me. They cannot reach us in a dugout. The most fun, though, is to hide behind the trench wall and hear the Boche shell go Clear over us!

"You should see France. It is a very beautiful country. Many of the children wear wooden shoes and it makes an American laugh to hear them clatter along the stone sidewalk.

"They work dogs, too. Many times I have seen carts drawn by one or two dogs and one time I saw an ox and a donkey hitched together.

"I had a good trip across the United States and from New York over here. I was in the same convoy as the Tuscania and saw the Boche sink her. Except for that we had a fine ocean voyage.

"Can think of nothing more now. You will have a hard time to read this, because I have no table here and it is very poor writing. But your father can read it, I know, because he can read his own.

"I hope your mother's health is good. My kindest regards to both of them.

"Sincerely yours,

ORVILLE E. JACKSON FUNERAL HELD TODAY

The funeral of Orville E. Jackson occurred this afternoon at the mortuary chapel of E. B. Smallwood, Rev. Thomas Boyer of the First Christian church conducting the services.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

RICHMOND EVIDENCE FOR RICHMOND PEOPLE

The Statements of Richmond Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers.

Home testimony is real proof.

Public statements of Richmond people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Richmond man's statement.

And it's for Richmond people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Wm. Herman, carpenter, 605 Ninth Street, says: "I think heavy lifting weakened my kidneys and caused kidney complaint. I had a heavy pain across my kidneys, which made me feel miserable. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were unnatural. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the LaMoine Drug Co. and they helped me as nothing else had ever done."

used, says Marcel Hutin, famous French military expert. They were not spotted at first by the French artillery. The Germans paid dearly for their advance. Cuirassiers cut off from their main force beat back fourteen attacks, sweeping down on the picked German storming troops. They succeeded in regaining their lines, however. The Germans are putting forward their supreme effort, using all their resources. A naval offensive in conjunction with the land attacks is now probable. This would be directed against the British.

Despite the desperate nature of the fighting, Americans continue to arrive and enter the battle.

They share the secrets that help the younger to add to her youthful charm and the older to keep hers. Tonight it is the secret of Pompeian BEAUTY Powder, the powder that adheres so smoothly to the face and neck, imparting an exquisite pearly luster and fragrance to the skin.

The three new Pompeian preparations shown here have met with great success in New York. They can be used separately, or together as a "Complete Complexion Toilette." They are guaranteed pure and safe by the makers of Pompeian MASSAGE Cream.
